

Apptix Delivers Email Hosting and ActiveSync for Palm Prē

Provides Exchange Email, Calendar, and Contact Synchronization for Palm Prē Users

Herndon, Virginia – July 15, 2009 – Apptix (OSE: APP), the industry-leading provider of hosted Microsoft Exchange email, Microsoft SharePoint collaboration services, and hosted VoIP phone service for small and medium businesses (SMBs), today announced that it offers hosted email and ActiveSync services for the Palm Prē. This offering gives Prē users instant access to their email, calendar, and task lists anywhere, anytime.

“Small businesses want to take advantage of the same enterprise-class tools available to larger businesses, including the inherent business and mobility benefits of a powerful device like the Prē,” said Rick Rumbarger, Vice President of Product for Apptix. “Our offering of hosted Exchange and ActiveSync for the Palm Prē ensures that SMBs can realize the benefits of this new device without having to pay for an expensive and unnecessary in-house Exchange server.”

With hosted Exchange and ActiveSync from Apptix, Palm Prē users receive a wide set of mobile email and collaboration capabilities, including:

- Full-featured Outlook email: Receive and reply to messages on the fly
- Calendaring: The ability to check calendars, and plan and schedule meetings
- Personal/global contact lookup
- Integration with Apptix hosted Exchange email account
- Push technology: No prompting to send/receive email; your email finds you no matter where you are
- Secure mobile email: 128-bit SSL encryption and the ability to remotely wipe your device if lost or stolen

Apptix hosted Exchange email and ActiveSync for the Palm Prē is available now. For more information, please visit <http://www.apptix.com>.
